Convocation at Carleton University

The Convocation ceremony (the calling together of the academic assembly) has its roots in university traditions of medieval Europe.

The Mace

The mace is a staff symbolizing authority. In the days of knighthood, it was a weapon, but after the 16th century it became solely a symbol of authority carried by a distinguished member of an assembly. It is used on ceremonial occasions to signify the right of an individual or institution to perform a certain function—in the case of universities, to grant degrees.

At Convocation, the mace is carried ahead of the Chancellor as she enters and leaves each ceremony. (Marshal of Convocation H.H.J. Nesbitt has performed this function for all but one of the University's Convocations.) During the ceremony the mace is displayed on a special stand as an embodiment of the authority of the University.

Carleton's mace was presented to the University in 1976 as a gift from the Chairman of the Board of Governors at that time, Mr. Hyman Soloway. It is a silver-plated staff approximately three feet long. At the upper end there is a bowl marked with the University's coat of arms and the University motto in both Latin and English—"Opera Nobis Aeterna" and "Ours the Task Eternal." From the upper portion of the bowl rises a phoenix. Traditional oak leaves surround the lower end of the staff.

Coat of Arms

Carleton University's coat of arms is described in heraldic terms as follows: "On a field sable; in radiants d'argent, a maple leaf gules charged with an open book; crest—a phoenix propre." It is comprised of a black shield bearing an open book on a red maple leaf surrounded by silver rays. The shield is surmounted by a phoenix, and below the shield is a scroll bearing the motto "Ours the Task Eternal."

The open book on the maple leaf signifies that Carleton University is in the nation's capital and that learning is open to all who wish to partake of it. The radiants are the light of learning. The phoenix, the legendary eternal bird, symbolizes the renewing of learning from older foundations, in recognition of Henry Marshall Tory's role in the founding of the University when he was 82 years old. "Ours the Task Eternal" is taken from a Walt Whitman poem entitled "Pioneers" and ties in with the eternal quality of the phoenix.

And so, the Carleton University coat of arms symbolizes sound learning, good citizenship, and the highest hopes of humanity.

The Diploma

The diploma the graduates receive at Convocation is the certificate of qualification which publishes the fact that the student has fulfilled all the requirements and completed the prescribed course of study for the degree. As the senior academic legislative body of the University, it is the Senate which has determined whether the requirements have been met. The signatures of both the Chancellor and the President of the University appear on the diploma: the Chancellor because of her role in conferring the degree, and the President who, as Chairman of Senate, certifies that Senate has enacted the required motion to award the degree. The Seal of the University is affixed to the diploma as a mark of authentication.

Academic Dress

The academic dress of Carleton University is a compromise between that found in the ancient foundations of Britain and Canada and the American Intercollegiate Code. All three hoods—bachelor's, master's, and doctor's—are of the simple or Oxford shape. Bachelor's is made of black stuff; master's and doctor's are made of black silk and all are lined with silver silk with two chevrons, one of red and one of black. From bachelor's to doctor's the hoods are progressively longer and opened to show more and more of the lining.

The velvet border of the hoods denotes the degrees granted according to the following colour combinations: architecture is cerise; arts is white; commerce is camel brown; computer science is royal blue; engineering is orange; industrial design is dark cardinal; journalism is white with a black cord sewn slightly in from the lower border; management studies is camel brown with a black cord sewn slightly in from the lower border; music is venetian pink; public administration is peacock blue; science is golden yellow; social work is cream; and doctor of philosophy is purple.

The bachelor's gown, to be worn with the above hoods, is of full length, made of black stuff, with a gathered yolk behind, and long open-fronted sleeves. The master's gown is of full style, made of black silk or rayon, with full gathered yolk behind, and closed sleeves with an opening at the elbows. The doctoral gown is the same style as the master's, made of fine royal blue cloth with facings of light blue silk.

The gown of the Honorary Doctor of Laws, Literature, Science, and Engineering is a full robe with bell-shaped sleeves, made of fine royal blue cloth with facings and sleeves in light blue silk. The hood is made of the same material as the gown, has the same lining as that for degrees by examination, and is bordered with dark mauve for the degree Doctor of Laws; vibrant blue for the degree Doctor of Literature; red for the degree Doctor of Science; and orange for the degree Doctor of Engineering.

The Presiding Officer of Convocation is the Chancellor.

In the absence of the Chancellor, Pauline Jewett, O.C., M.A., Ph.D., LL.D., the Vice-Chancellor, President Robin H. Farquhar, M.A., Ph.D., F.C.C.E.A., presides at this spring's ceremonies.

She teaches her community the primary native goal of self-sufficiency in the way of native culture through storytelling and practical teaching. In this way, she passes on the ability to hunt, tan hides, sew traditional clothing, and prepare traditional foods. She was chosen by her elders at an early age to become a messenger and trained to accurately forecast the weather and prepare for upcoming storms. Ms Natawe has thorough knowledge of the natural sciences and the environment which she skilfully blends into her many areas of teaching. She speaks several different dialects including Attikame, Cree and Ojibway. She has raised 17 of her own children as well as two step-children, has been midwife to another 60 children and is the essential palliative care provider for the grieving and the dying in her community. She embodies her "native traditions and teaches the spiritual values of being a proud and self-sufficient Indian."

He first came to Carleton as an assistant professor in 1944, became an associate professor in 1953 and professor in 1957. During that period he also served as Chair of Carleton's Department of Economics from 1948 to 1954 and held other teaching positions at McGill University and the University of Chicago. He joined Indiana University in 1966 as professor of economics, and has been a distinguished professor since 1981. Dr. Gordon concurrently holds an adjunct professorship at Queen's University. He received his B.A. from his hometown university, Dalhousie (1944), his M.A. from Columbia in 1947 as part of a graduate residence scholarship, and his Ph.D. (1964) from McGill which he began on a Bronfman Fellowship. Dr. Gordon was honoured by Indiana University in 1990 as a distinguished faculty research lecturer and by Carleton economics professor T.K. Rymes in his book, Welfare, Property Rights and Economic Policy: Essays and Tributes in Honour of H. Scott Gordon (1991).

Keith U. Ingold, B.Sc., D. Phil., D.Sc., LL.D., F.R.S.C., F.R.S., F.C.I.C.

Dr. Keith U. Ingold, Distinguished Research Scientist with the Steacie Institute for Molecular Sciences at the National Research Council, will be awarded the degree of Doctor of Science, honoris causa, at the morning ceremony on Saturday, June 13, "in recognition of a distinguished contribution to Canadian life and the international scientific community as a leader in the field of physical organic chemistry."

Dr. Ingold is one of the world's leading organic chemists and is recognized as the pre-eminent authority in the field of free-radical chemistry. He received his B.Sc. from the University of London and his D. Phil. from Oxford University in 1951. After two post-doctoral fellowships at the National Research Council of Canada (NRC) and the Defence Research Board of Canada, he joined NRC's Division of Applied Chemistry. He is currently Distinguished Research Scientist in the Steacie Institute for Molecular Science, Adjunct Professor in the Department of Chemistry at Carleton, and at the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry at Brunel University in the U.K. Dr. Ingold is the author of some 400 widely cited scientific publications, co-author of the book Free Radical Substitution Reactions, and author of individual chapters in twenty books. He also holds seven patents. In recent years he has focused his research upon biology and especially the chemistry of vitamin E. The awards and honours have been many including three previous honorary degrees: the Henry Marshall Tory Medal from the Royal Society of Canada in 1985; the Humboldt Award from Germany in 1989; the Sir Christopher Ingold Lectureship Award of the Royal Society of Chemistry (U.K.) in 1991; and the 1992 Izaak Walton Killam Memorial Prize for $50,000, given to Canadians in recognition of world-class achievement in the sciences.

John D. Redfern, B.Sc., P.Eng.

Mr. John D. Redfern, Chair of the Board of Lafarge Canada Ltd., will be awarded the degree of Doctor of Engineering, honoris causa, at the afternoon ceremony on Saturday, June 13, "in recognition of a distinguished contribution to the business side of civil engineering, and of leadership provided with vision and imagination to Carleton University as Chair of the successful Challenge Fund Campaign."

Mr. Redfern was born in Ottawa and educated at Carleton, and he received his B.Sc. in civil engineering from Queen's University in 1958. Following experience in the highway construction industry, Mr. Redfern joined Canada Cement Company in 1958 and held different positions across the country before becoming Vice-President of Operations in 1974. Three years later, he became President and Chief Executive Officer of the company. In January of 1988, Canada Cement Lafarge Ltd. was renamed Lafarge Canada Inc., and he continues as Chair of that organization. He is a member of six different boards and organizations and a director of another six corporations. His association with Carleton has continued from his days as a member of the Ravens football team, to involvement with the alumni association, the Board of Governors, and his enormous contribution and leadership of Carleton's five-year $30 million Challenge Fund Campaign, which kicked-off in 1987 and reached its goal one year ahead of schedule.
